

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT

OF THE

COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,
Washington, November 20, 1872.

SIR: I have the honor to submit for the consideration of Congress the following report:

The national currency act provides that it shall be the duty of the Comptroller of the Currency to report annually to Congress a summary of the state and condition of all the national banks, exhibiting their resources and liabilities, as returned in different reports during the preceding year; that he shall suggest amendments to the act by which the system may be improved, and present such other information with reference to the affairs of the national banks as may, in his judgment, be useful. The act also provides that the circulation shall be apportioned to associations in the States and Territories upon the basis of population, resources, business, and bank capital, and that a new apportionment of circulation not issued shall be made as soon as practicable, based upon the census of 1870.

The national currency act became a law on the 25th of February, 1863, and nearly ten years have therefore elapsed since the organization of the system. During this period the agricultural products, the manufactures, and the internal commerce of the country have increased beyond any former precedent; and notwithstanding the enormous waste of a protracted war, the reduction of nearly two thousand millions of dollars in the valuation of property by the abolition of slavery, (more than compensated, it is true, by the conversion of slaves to freemen,) and the collection of five thousand millions of dollars of taxes* imposed by the National and State Governments, the census returns of 1870 show an increase of population for the ten years previous of more than seven millions of persons, and an increase in the total wealth of the Union, of nearly fourteen thousand millions of dollars.

Since the organization of the national banking system, two thousand and sixty-one national banks have been organized; twenty-one of these have failed, and ninety-six gone into voluntary liquidation, by a vote of two-thirds of the shareholders, under section 42 of the act, leaving nineteen hundred and forty-four banks in existence on November 1, 1872.

*The amount of national taxation, from 1863 to 1872, inclusive, is shown by the official returns to be as follows: From customs, $1,573,460,608; from internal revenue, $1,740,184,621; direct taxes, $12,699,598.

The taxation not national, for the year 1870, is stated in the census returns at $221,180,312. Assuming that the taxation "not national" was the same amount annually for the decade, the total taxation collected would be $6,138,147,947.

‡ The whole amount of circulation issued and unredeemed on November 1, 1872, including circulation of banks which have ceased to do business, was $342,593,470.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE CURRENCY.

The act of June 3, 1864, limited the issue of notes of circulation to three hundred millions of dollars. The act of March 3, 1865, provided that one-half of this amount shall be apportioned according to "the representative population," and the remainder among associations formed in the different States, District of Columbia, and Territories, "having due regard to the existing banking capital resources and business of each State, District, and Territory." The three hundred millions of circulation authorized were not, however, distributed in accordance with the act of March 3, 1865, already quoted. At the date of the passage of that act, only about ninety-nine millions of dollars had been issued, but contemporary with its passage, an amendment to the internal-revenue law (act of June 30, 1864) was passed, providing "that every national banking association, State bank, or State banking association, shall pay a tax of ten per centum on the amount of notes of any State bank, or State banking association, paid out by them after the 1st day of July, 1866." But a subsequent section also provided that State banks already organized, applying for authority to become national banks before the 1st day of July following, should receive such authority in preference to new associations applying for the same. Under this provision the State associations, whose circulation had been taxed out of existence, generally applied for authority to re-organize as national banks, and the result was that the banks in the Eastern and Middle States obtained a large excess of the amount to which they were entitled in the apportionment.

To remedy this inequality, the act of July 12, 1870, was passed, providing for an additional issue of circulating notes, amounting to fifty-four millions of dollars, to be distributed among those States having less than their proportion, and requiring the cancellation monthly of three per cent. certificates,* not less than the amount of circulation issued, and a new apportionment of the increased circulation as soon as practicable, based upon the census of 1870.

This additional circulation has been distributed to associations already organized, or in process of organization, in the following States and Territories:

The census of 1870 does not furnish the banking capital of the country or sufficient data upon which an estimate can be made of the business of each State or Territory. If the statistics of the agriculture, the manufactures, and the commerce of every State of the Union were at hand, it would be necessary to estimate the proportion to which each branch of industry would be entitled. No satisfactory basis for this purpose c be obtained, and, after consultation with the Secretary of the Treasu it was decided that the distribution of the circulation, one-half up population and one-half upon the resources or wealth* of the count would comply with both the letter and the spirit of the act more nea than any estimate not derived from official data.

The final distribution of the fifty-four millions will still leave a deficiency of forty millions in different States of the Union, which will require to be filled before the proportion among the several States will be equalized upon the basis of wealth and population. This deficiency arises from the fact that while fifty-four millions of new circulation were authorized, there was, at the time of the passage of the act, a deficiency existing of ninety-four millions of dollars.

Section 6 of the act of July 12, 1870, provides that, after the whole fifty-four millions of circulation shall have been distributed, twenty-five millions additional shall be withdrawn from banking associations organized in States having an excess, and distributed among States having less than their proportion, first, by reducing, in such States, the circulation of all banks having more than one million of dollars, to that amount; and, secondly, by withdrawing from other banks having a circulation exceeding $300,000 their circulation pro rata in excess of that amount. Under this act it will be the duty of the Comptroller, as soon as the amount of circulation authorized shall have been issued, to make requisition upon the banks indicated as prescribed. The twenty-five millions of circulation would be withdrawn from the following cities and States: From four banks in the city of New York, $5,018,000; from thirty-six banks in the city of Boston, $11,403,000; from fifty-three country banks of Massachusetts, $2,894,000; from fifteen banks in Connecticut, $2,997,000; from sixteen banks in the city of Providence, $2,688,000. This would reduce the circulation of all the banks of Massachusetts, of Rhode Island, and of Connecticut to $300,000, without reference to the business of each. If the banks do not respond to these requisitions—and, as their notes are scattered throughout the whole country, it will be impracticable for them to do so—the Comptroller is required at the end of one year to sell a sufficient amount of bonds and redeem their notes as they come into the Treasury, until the whole amount required shall have been returned. The notes will not come to the Treasury for redemption unless first assorted by the brokers and resold by them to new national banks about to be organized. This will encourage the objectionable practice of authorizing new national banks with circulation upon the condition that currency shall be purchased of brokers in the market at from four to six per cent. premium—a practice which should not be encouraged or authorized by law. The Comptroller therefore recommends the repeal of this section, and the authorization of the issue of five millions of dollars of additional circulation annually for the next five years, to be distributed among the States which are deficient.

This, with the fifty-four millions of circulation recently authorized, will probably furnish all the additional currency required during the next five years for the establishment of new national banks in the States which are deficient, and virtually inaugurate a free banking system.

The Comptroller also recommends that the law be so amended that national banks may be organized in accordance with its provisions, without circulation, upon the deposit of ten thousand dollars of United States bonds with the Treasurer, instead of the deposit of one-third of the capital paid up, as now required.

Three national gold-banks have been organized in California, under the act of July 12, 1870, with an aggregate capital of $3,300,000, and circulation $1,480,000, based upon United States bonds at the rate of 80 cents on the dollar. This currency is redeemable in coin, is more convenient than the coin itself in the transaction of business, and circulates freely at par upon the Pacific coast. Other applications have been received for the organization of similar institutions, and it is probable that this kind of circulation will be considerably increased during the coming year.

The following table will exhibit the number of banks organized, the number closed and closing, and the number in operation, with their capital, amount of bonds on deposit, and circulation, in each State and Territory, on the 1st day of November, 1872:

TAXATION, EARNINGS, AND DIVIDENDS.

The national banks pay the following taxes to the Treasurer of the United States: One per cent. annually on circulation outstanding; one-half of one per cent. annually upon deposits; and one-half of one per cent. annually on capital not invested in United States bonds. These taxes are payable semi-annually. The amount of taxes collected by the Treasurer from January 1, 1864, to January 1, 1872, was as follows:

On circulation	$19,177,734 54
On deposits	18,611,945 72
On capital	2,453,025 17
Total	40,242,705 43

The national banks, prior to May 1, 1871, also paid to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue a license or special tax of $2 on each $1,000 of capital, and an income-tax on net earnings to December 1, 1871. The special or license tax from May 1, 1864, to May 1, 1871, amounted to $5,322,688.43; the income-tax from March 1, 1869, to September 1, 1871, amounted to $5,539,289.17. The following table will exhibit the amount of taxes collected from these sources during the years 1870–'71:

Duty on circulation, deposits, and capital.		License-tax on capital.		Taxation of earnings.		Total taxation.

The Comptroller, in his report for the year 1867, made careful statements of the taxes on national banks for the year 1866, from which it appears that the banks, during that year, paid over sixteen millions of United States and State taxes, as follows:

To the United States Government	$8,069,938
To the States	7,949,451

The amount of taxes paid to the several States was derived from specific returns of about fourteen hundred banks, the minimum rate in each State being calculated for those banks which made no returns. A similar statement for the year ending December 31, 1867, exhibits the following results:

Amount of taxes paid to the United States	$9,525,607 31
Amount of taxes paid to the State authorities	8,813,126 92
Aggregate taxes paid	18,338,734 23

Or 4⅓ per cent. upon a capital of $422,804,666.

The aggregate State tax was believed to be considerably below the actual amount paid. Assuming the amount of State taxes paid by the national banks to be the same as that paid to the United States Government, (which is a moderate estimate,) we shall have the total taxes paid by the national banks during these four years:

1866	$16,019,389 00
1867	18,338,734 23
1870	19,159,468 30
1871	17,529,867 82

The act of March 3, 1869, required specific returns to be made of the dividends and net earnings of the national banks after the declaration of each dividend. From these returns the following table has been prepared, exhibiting the aggregate capital and surplus; total dividends and total earnings of the national banks, with the ratio of dividends to capital; dividends to capital and surplus; and earnings to capital and surplus, for each half-year, commencing March 1, 1869, and ended September 1, 1872.

Complete statistics, in detail, of the capital, surplus, earnings, and dividends by States and cities, will be found on pages 38–44 of the appendix.

The national banks are required to furnish to this office not less than five statements during each year of their assets and liabilities, and also to make specific returns to the Treasurer, semi-annually, of their circulation, deposits, and the average amount of capital not invested in United States bonds. The officers of the United States, and of the different States, whose duty it is to collect taxes, have, therefore, at all times at their command the data from which to ascertain the amount of taxes to be collected; and it is believed that there is no other species of capital upon which the tax can be so definitely assessed and so certainly collected as the tax upon the national banks of the country. There is no doubt that in some instances, owing to large deposits in proportion to capital, or to high rates of interest in the new States, large dividends have been declared; but it will be seen from the above table that the average earnings of the national banks, after making a proper allowance for bad debts, are not more than a fair remuneration upon capital. The dividends declared do not probably exceed in the aggregate the dividends under the old State systems, and are far less than the average annual dividends of the English banks.*

It is generally supposed that the circulation issued to the national †Public and other deposits, August 28.

The statistics of the Bank of England and its dividends were obtained from the report of the Bank of England, published in the London Bankers' Magazine for October, 1872. The usual dividends of this bank are 10 per cent. per annum, but the amount has varied for some years past from 8 to 13 per cent.

Similar statistics of 142 of the banks in Great Britain and Ireland, with an aggregate capital of £61,361,531, (or, $298,022,027,) compiled from a table in the London Economist of October 26, 1872, (pages 345–6,) give the average dividends for the four half-years prior to July 1, 1872, as, respectively, 5.71, 5.95, 6.25, and 6.41 per cent.

banks is a source of great profit; but if the premium upon bonds is considered as an ultimate loss, the profit upon circulation does not exceed 3 per cent. per annum. The chief source of profit in banking, under this as under all other systems, is from deposits, and upon this branch of business an annual tax is already fixed by law. If the system has the advantage of circulation, it is also subject to many restrictions which are considered burdensome, but which give steadiness and strength to the money transactions of the country. While the banks should contribute their proportion to the revenues of the country, they should not, under an imputation of extravagant profits, or an unfounded prejudice, be taxed to a greater degree than other corporations which are even less important to its prosperity.

The consolidation of the bank capital of the country in a sound and conservative system, with proper safeguards and restrictions, is of much greater importance than a penny-wise and pound-foolish imposition of excessive taxation, which will have a tendency to drive those banks that are not over-conscientious out of the system, with the purpose of evading all taxation whatever.

RESERVE.

A good deal of discussion has arisen during the recent stringency in the money market in the city of New York in reference to the provisions of the national currency act, requiring a reserve upon the liabilities of national banks.

The act requires that the country banks shall hold an amount of reserve equal to fifteen per cent. of the entire amount of their deposits and circulation, three-fifths of which reserve may be on deposit with national banks which are their agents in redemption cities. The national banks in the redemption cities must hold a reserve of twenty-five per cent., one-half of which may be on deposit with national banks in New York City.

The reserves of the nineteen hundred national banks located elsewhere than in the city of New York are held to a great extent in that city. For most of the time during the past year, an amount equal to more than one-fifth of the capital of all these national banks has been held on deposit by the national banks of the city of New York to the credit of their correspondents. In many cases these credits amount to twice the capital of the bank with which they are deposited; in other cases the amount of deposits is three, four, and even five times the capital, which amount has been attracted thither largely by the payment of interest on deposits. The failure of one of these New York City banks in a time of monetary stringency would embarrass, if not ruin, many banks in the redemption cities, and, in turn, the country correspondents of these banks would suffer from the imprudence of the New York bank, which would be responsible for wide-spread disaster. It is clear that a bank having such excessive liabilities has no right, even if there were no law, to increase its loans to such an unreasonable extent as to lead to embarrassment if unexpectedly called upon for the reserves of its correspondents. A provision of law prohibiting banks from extending their loans beyond three times their capital would seem to be not unreasonable, but such a provision would be much more restrictive than the present requirements of the law in reference to reserve.

The State laws of Massachusetts and Louisiana, which were in most respects models of a sound system of bank legislation, required an ample reserve to be kept on hand. The laws of the State of New York had no such restriction. The country banks of that State were, however, required to redeem their notes in the city of New York, in specie, and an examination of their returns will show that while the country banks usually held but a very small proportion (about 2½ per cent.) of circulation and deposits in their vaults, they were forced to keep on deposit with their city correspondents nearly as large a proportion of reserve as under the national system. An examination of the weekly returns made to the clearing-house in New York City will show that the State banks of established reputation in times of monetary stringency hold a sufficient reserve without such provision of law; while the larger proportion of banks, not included in the national system, are continually below a judicious limit. The truth is that the strong and well-managed banks do not need any law in reference to reserve, and do not, therefore, ask for a change of legislation in this respect. The weak banks and those already too largely extended wish to be free from all restrictions. It is the constant tendency of such banks to increase their liabilities. In times of excessive stringency loans are not made by such associations to businessmen upon commercial paper, but to dealers in speculative securities upon short time at high rates of interest; and an increase of call-loans beyond the proper limit is more likely to afford facilities for unwarrantable stock speculations than relief to legitimate business transactions. The law is intended as a wholesome restriction upon national banks, organized in almost every city and village in the Union. Next to the absolute security provided for the crumpled bits of paper in the pockets of every citizen, no provision of the act has done so much to give character and standing to the national banking system as the assurance to the thousands of depositors throughout the country (who, after all, are the chief source of profit to every bank) that a reserve, equivalent to such a proportion of the liabilities of every bank as the experience of years and the fluctuations of business have shown to be necessary, will always be kept on hand to answer the extraordinary and unexpected calls of creditors.

The variations in the liabilities requiring reserve in the banks of the city of New York are very great. The banks outside of New York, during the dull season, send their surplus means to that city for deposit upon interest, to await the revival of business. The banks in the city of New York, at such periods of the year, have no legitimate outlet for these funds, and are therefore threatened with loss. The stock board takes advantage of this condition of affairs, speculation is stimulated by the cheapness of money, and a market is found for the idle funds upon doubtful collaterals, and the result is seen in the increased transactions at the clearing-house, which, during the past year, exceeded thirty-two thousand millions of dollars, or an average of more than one hundred millions of dollars daily—not one-half of which was the result of legitimate business; the total amount of transactions being greater than that of the bankers' clearing-house of the city of London. The evil arises largely from the payment, by the banks, of interest on deposits—an old-established custom which cannot easily be changed by legislation. A considerable portion of these deposits would remain at home if they could be used at a low rate of interest, and made available at any time upon the return of the season of active business. No sure investment of this kind is, however, open to the country banks; and the universal custom is to send forward the useless dollars from vaults comparatively insecure to their correspondents in the city, where they are supposed to be safer, and at the same time earning dividends for shareholders. A Government issue bearing a low rate of interest to be counted as a certain proportion of the reserve, and an increase of the amount which the country banks are required to keep on hand, is the proper remedy for such a state of things. Such an issue need not result in inflation, for the currency invested would be in the possession of the Government. If the currency is held, the objection is the loss of interest to the Government; but this loss would be no more than a just rebate upon the six millions of dollars of taxation annually paid by the banks to the Government, at a time when almost every kind of internal taxation has been discontinued. Such a reduction of taxation should not be grudgingly made, if the result shall be to give elasticity to the currency, to strengthen and steady the money market, to give additional security to seven hundred millions of dollars belonging to depositors by retaining in the vaults of the banks a large amount of funds for legitimate business purposes, which would otherwise be thrown upon the stock board to unsettle values throughout the country, and alternately increase and depress the price of every commodity.

For the information of those who do not believe that the banks usually hold the requisite amount of reserve, we have prepared tables showing that for the last five years, at from four to five different periods of the year, the banks organized in every State, and in the principal cities of the Union, have been found to hold, in almost every instance, a considerable amount beyond the requirements of law.

THE CHICAGO FIRE.

The great fire in Chicago, of October 8 to 11, 1871, should be mentioned among the noteworthy events of the year. The buildings occupied by the eighteen national banks in that city were all totally destroyed in the general conflagration, except one, and that one was rendered untenantable for some weeks.

The amount of bills receivable held by these banks at that time was more than twenty-one millions of dollars, and the indebtedness to correspondents nearly nine millions, and to individual depositors about seventeen millions. For a time it was thought that they were so seriously crippled that they would be unable to resume business, and it was proposed to open their doors with the offer of payment by installments to their creditors. The contents of their vaults were, however, rescued in good condition, and finally wise and prudent counsels prevailed, owing largely to the presence and advice of my predecessor. Eight days after the conflagration the banks obtained new offices in dwelling-houses distant from their former locations, and opened for the transaction of business. Instead of balances being largely drawn upon, deposits flowed in freely from dealers and correspondents, and at the close of the first day's business the receipts were found to be considerably larger than the disbursements. It was soon ascertained that the immense losses anticipated upon bills receivable would not be experienced, and confidence was restored. The total loss arising from the fire on discounted paper is estimated at about six hundred thousand dollars, and the loss from the destruction of bank-buildings, furniture, and fixtures, at about one hundred and seventy-six thousand dollars. The banks, at the time of this disaster, had accumulated a surplus fund exceeding one-fourth of their aggregate capital, and had at their command a reserve equal to more than thirty per cent. of their liabilities, and consequently were able to resume business without embarrassment. The wisdom of the sections of the law requiring an accumulation of surplus and the holding of reserve could not be better illustrated.

By reference to the abstract of the condition of the national banks of the city of Chicago, on page 38 of this volume, evidence will be found of the steady increase of business in these banks during the past year.*

* Since the above paragraph was written a great conflagration has taken place in Boston, resulting in the destruction of from seventy to eighty millions of property. The facts pertaining to the Boston banks were in many respects similar to those of Chicago. Their aggregate capital was $48,900,000; their surplus, $11,440,000; their bills receivable, $83,327,000; their deposits, $40,841,000; and their reserve, according to the latest official reports, about twenty-five per cent. of their liabilities. The buildings of seven national banks, out of forty-nine transacting business in the city, were destroyed by the fire, but their cash assets were subsequently recovered. On the second day after the commencement of the fire all the banks but one were represented at the clearing-house, and on the fourth day all of them had resumed business. The aggregate loss upon bills receivable is estimated at from two and a half to three millions of dollars. The losses of the banks are chargeable to surplus, which was in excess of the requirements of the law, and it is not supposed that the regular dividends to shareholders will be materially reduced by the disaster.

USURY.

Charges have been made against several national banks during the past year for receiving usurious rates of interest. These complaints have been made not only against banks in the South and West, where high rates of interest prevail, but also against banks organized in other States, where the usurious rate charged was but slightly in excess of the rate of six per cent., allowed by law. Section 30 of the act provides that when the amount of interest charged is greater than the rate authorized by State law, twice the interest paid may be recovered by the person paying the same; while section 53 provides that the franchises of an association may be forfeited if the directors of a bank knowingly violate the provisions of the act. The original national currency act of February 11, 1863, provided as a penalty for usury the forfeiture of the debt, and section 50 of the same act also subjected the rights, privileges, and franchises of an association to forfeiture for willful violations of the act. It may be doubted, therefore, whether Congress intended to impose a specific penalty involving the loss of the whole debt, and then, in addition, subject the same bank to a forfeiture of charter in a subsequent section, which is applicable to other violations of law. I am informed by gentlemen who participated in the framing of the present national currency act that the forfeiture of twice the amount of interest was regarded as a sufficient penalty for such violations of law, and, at the same time, a sufficient protection to borrowers.

These statements are confirmed by the act of April 22, 1870, "An act to amend the usury laws of the District of Columbia," which provides "that if any person or corporation in this District shall contract to receive a greater rate of interest than ten per cent. upon any contract in writing, or six per cent. upon any verbal contract, such person or corporation shall forfeit the whole of said interest so contracted to be received, and shall be entitled only to recover the principal sum due to such person or corporation." It will be observed that the forfeiture of the interest is the only penalty prescribed by Congress nearly six years after the passage of the national currency act for corporations and individuals in the District of Columbia.

The rates of interest fixed by State laws are not governed by any sound economical or business principles. In three of the New England States* usury laws are abolished, while in the remainder the rate has remained for half a century at a uniform standard, which is less than the present rate of the Bank of England. In Minnesota and Virginia, the rate is limited to twelve per cent.; in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Missouri, to ten per cent.; in Alabama and Ohio, to eight per cent., while in Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Kentucky, the rate is fixed at six per cent. In New York, the taking of an excess beyond the limit of seven per cent. forfeits the whole debt, and subjects the creditor to fine and imprisonment. It would be difficult to give any good reason why the rate of interest should be limited to ten per cent. in the city of Washington, to six per cent. in the neighboring cities of Philadelphia, Baltimore, Wilmington, and Raleigh, and to twelve per cent. across the Potomac, in Alexandria, and in the capital of Virginia. Many of the States have practically repealed their usury laws, while other neighboring States retain upon their statute-books laws which are so continually evaded that they have become obsolete. Savings-banks chartered by Congress, savings-banks, trust-companies, and safe-deposit companies authorized by the legislatures of almost every State of the Union, as well as private bankers, offer for interest on deposits rates nearly equal, and sometimes exceeding the ruling rates allowed by law; and under such circumstances it is difficult to control by legislation the rates of the national banks.

Self-protection stimulates even the most conservative banks to control their own business and retain the accounts of dealers of long standing. The rates of interest charged must correspond in some degree to the supply of money and to the demand. If high rates are paid for deposits, it is with the expectation that the borrower will pay a rate correspondingly high. Hence loans are made to those dealers who will leave the largest proportion of the amount borrowed with the bank for the longest period in the guise of deposits. Banks in New York charge seven per cent., in Philadelphia and Baltimore, six per cent.; but their loans are made chiefly to dealers whose average accounts show balances continually on hand equal to one-eighth or one-fourth of the amount borrowed; while the banks in the South and the West not unfrequently charge the ruling rate without regard to the account of the customer. The expedients for violating the usury laws are so numerous that it may well be doubted whether it would not be better for all parties to allow the rate charged to be regulated by the state of the money market. Under existing laws, in an easy money market, the rate not unfrequently falls below that prescribed by law. If money is scarce, the rate is nominally within the limit, but really regulated in accordance with a previous understanding between borrower and lender.

There are no usury laws in Great Britain, or in the other commercial European states; and the commonwealth of Massachusetts, one of the most prosperous and enlightened States of the Union, has recently abolished* such laws; and it will be found, by reference to the table on page 16, that the earnings of the banks in that State for the four years since the passage of the act, have been even less than in many of the Eastern, Middle, and Southern States, where the rate is fixed at six per cent.

Mr. McCulloch, late Secretary of the Treasury, in his first report, as Comptroller of the Currency, recommended a uniform rate of interest, and expressed the opinion that Congress possessed the power to enact such a law, under the constitutional provision of regulating commerce among the several States. Congress alone has the power to coin money and regulate the value thereof; and if it alone has authority to issue and authenticate the paper currency of the country, there would seem to be no good reason why it should not also provide for its free circulation, which is now impeded by the ever-changing statutes of forty different legislatures.

The penalty for usury should at least be defined, and until this is done the Comptroller will not feel himself called upon to institute proceedings for forfeiture of the charter of a bank for usurious transactions, when it is evident that the business of the association is conducted legitimately and safely in other respects.

SAVINGS-BANKS.

The act of June 17, 1870, provides that savings-banks may be organized within the District of Columbia, under the provisions of section 4 of the act "to provide for the creation of corporations in the District of Columbia by general law;" and a subsequent act exempts from taxation the deposits of savings-banks in amounts less than $2,000. It is claimed that, under this legislation, savings-banks, with capital paid up in full or in part, may be established in the District of Columbia, to be conducted for the benefit of the shareholders. The legislatures of many of the States have authorized the establishment of similar institutions, which, under the act of Congress, are exempt from taxation on deposits, while these identical deposits, if placed to the credit of savings-banks in a national bank, as is frequently the case, are subject to a tax of one-half per cent. per annum. It is evident that Congress intended to discriminate in favor of those institutions which are organized for the purpose of receiving and investing savings for the benefit of depositors, and not of shareholders.

The official reports of the savings-banks in New England show the deposits at the close of the year 1871 to have been $312,333,479, or more than three times the amount of the aggregate deposits in the national banks. The deposits in the savings-banks of the State of New York, at the same date, were $267,905,866, a sum also considerably in excess of the deposits of the national banks in that state. A large portion of these are not properly savings-deposits. Savings-banks in some portions of New England, New York, and Pennsylvania, as well as other States, have recently become formidable competitors of the national banks by offering much larger rates of interest for deposits than is usual in well-managed banks.

The proper functions of savings-banks are to make safe and judicious investments of the funds intrusted to them, and at specified times to divide the earnings among the depositors; but for the purpose of attracting the deposits of business men and others, who would otherwise do business with regularly organized banking institutions, the custom prevails, to a large extent, of offering high rates of interest for deposits before dividends have been earned. The result is that savings-deposits are, to a considerable extent, endangered by investments in street-paper, in loans to the managers of such institutions, and in speculative securities.

The savings-banks are among the most important business institutions of the country, and they should be fostered and maintained; but at the same time they should be restricted to a legitimate savings-bank business, and not allowed to encourage violations of usury laws nor to be controlled by the personal interests of shareholders, managers, or trustees. Frequent publications of reports should be required and their affairs subjected to rigid scrutiny from time to time by competent examiners. Special charters, with special privileges for savings-banks and trust companies, should not be granted, but all such institutions should be organized under general laws. The passage of such a law for the District of Columbia, with judicious provisions, would be productive of beneficial results and would afford an example, not only for those States which have no enactments of this kind, but also for the older States, whose present savings-bank laws are liable to great abuses.

LOCKING UP OF GREENBACKS.

The act of February 19, 1869, provides "that no national banking association shall hereafter offer or receive United States notes or national bank notes as security, or as collateral security, for any loan of money, or for a consideration shall agree to withhold the same from use, or shall offer or receive the custody or promise of custody of such notes as security, or as collateral security or consideration, for any loan of money."

On the 5th of April last the Comptroller was advised that a bank in the city of New York, with a capital of $1,000,000, and whose average exchanges at the clearing-house did not exceed $300,000, was that morning creditor at the clearing-house for $4,770,000. As it was evident that this large credit was not the result of legitimate business, the examiner was directed to make an examination of the bank, which was immediately done, in connection with a member of the clearing-house committee. From the examination, which was thoroughly and carefully conducted, it appeared that deposits had been made in that bank, by one individual, upon the morning of April 5, to the amount of $4,100,000, the whole of which was drawn out upon the same day, upon the checks of the depositor, in legal-tender notes. The president of the bank denied that the bank had any interest in these transactions, and there was no evidence of any loan, or of advances in any shape, upon these deposits. These transactions were the subject, subsequently, of an investigation by the bank committee of the House of Representatives, and, although it was clear that the spirit of the law had been violated, no evidence could be obtained to warrant the commencement of a suit for the recovery of the penalty prescribed in the act referred to. The investigation undoubtedly had the effect to prevent the repetition of similar transactions; no offenses of this kind, on the part of any national bank, having since been brought to the attention of the Comptroller.

The New York clearing-house association subsequently passed a resolution declaring "that the clearing-house committee be and is hereby directed, whenever it appears, in its judgment, that legal-tender notes have been withdrawn from use through the agency of any bank, member of the association, to make an immediate examination of the bank in question, and should there appear to be complicity on the part of the bank or its officials, to suspend said bank from the clearing-house until action of the association shall be taken thereon."

The withdrawal of currency for illegitimate purposes has, however, since been accomplished without the assistance of the banks.

The rigid enforcement of the resolution of the clearing-house will prevent complicity on the part of the banks in such transactions; and if the New York stock-board and the leading banking-houses will unite with the clearing house, and refuse to transact business with unscrupulous men, who do not hesitate to embarrass legitimate business for the purpose of increasing or diminishing the values of stocks or bonds in which they are temporarily interested, they can do more to prevent such operations than any congressional enactment.

INSOLVENT BANKS.

Twenty-one national banks, organized in eleven different States, with an aggregate capital of $4,236,100, have failed since the organization of the system in 1863. The total circulation of these banks was $2,942,793, of which $2,441,430 has been redeemed in full, leaving a balance still outstanding of $501,363, which will also be redeemed, upon presentation to the Treasurer of the United States, from the avails of United States bonds held as security for that purpose. Of these banks, five have been finally closed, (two during the past year,) having paid dividends to their creditors, as follows:

Of these banks, the Union Square National Bank, New York, the Fourth National Bank, Philadelphia, and the Waverly National Bank, New York, have paid their creditors in full, a settlement, it is believed, without precedent prior to the establishment of the national system. The Eighth National Bank, New York, has paid a dividend of fifty per cent.; the Ocean National Bank, New York, a dividend of seventy per cent.; and the receivers of the Ocean National Bank, and of the First National Bank of Fort Smith, Arkansas, estimate that the creditors of both of these banks will ultimately receive a dividend of one hundred cents on the dollar. The aggregate amount of claims proved against the seventeen national banks which have failed, (excluding the four banks which were Government depositories,) is $5,205,068; the average dividends, 69½ per cent.; the additional dividends to be declared are estimated at $14\frac{8}{10}$ per cent.; making, in all, dividends in favor of creditors of $84\frac{3}{10}$ per cent., which would leave an average deficiency of $15\frac{7}{10}$ per cent. to be collected of shareholders, as provided in section 50 of the act.

A final dividend in favor of the Farmers and Citizens' National Bank, of Brooklyn, will be made during the present year, of about four per cent., making, in all, dividends from the assets of ninety-six per cent. A final dividend of about forty per cent. in favor of the creditors of the National Unadilla Bank is delayed by a claim in litigation for the value of the bonds deposited as security for circulation in excess of the amount required to redeem its circulating notes, which will probably go to the Supreme Court for final adjudication. An assessment has been made upon the shareholders of the National Bank of Bethel, of 15½ per cent., which, if collected, will pay the creditors in full, without interest, up to the date of the appointment of the receiver. A dividend of more than thirty per cent. will also soon be declared in favor of the creditors of the First National Bank of Nevada. The affairs of the Eighth National Bank of New York, and of the First National Bank of Rockford, Illinois, are involved in litigation, and the date of the final closing of their affairs is uncertain.

The Venango National Bank of Franklin, Pennsylvania; the Merchants' National Bank of Washington, District of Columbia; the First National Bank of Selma, Alabama, and the First National Bank of New Orleans, were United States depositories. The final dividend in favor of the creditors of the First National Bank of Vicksburg has been unexpectedly delayed by the recent presentation of a claim of the United States for money alleged to have been illegally deposited by the collector of internal revenue of that district, in the year 1868. Since that time no losses have occurred to the Government by deposits made in the national banks, although many millions of dollars have been continually on deposit with banks which are designated as depositories. The three first-named banks, at the time of their failure, had a large amount of Government funds on deposit.

The fifth section of the act of March 3, 1797, provides "that when any revenue officer or other person hereafter becoming indebted to the United States, by bond orotherwise, shall become insolvent; or where the estate of any deceased debtor, in the hands of executors or administrators, shall be insufficient to pay all the debts due from the deceased, the debt due to the United States shall be first satisfied; and the priority hereby established shall be deemed to extend as well to cases in which a debtor, not having sufficient property to pay all his debts, shall make a voluntary assignment thereof, or in which the estate and effects of an absconding, concealed, or absent debtor shall be attached by process of law, as to cases in which an act of legal bankruptcy shall be committed."

The Treasurer of the United States claims, under this act, that all deposits in these banks at the time of suspension, belonging to the United States, whether deposited to its credit directly, or to the credit of its disbursing officers, with interest thereon from the date of the failure of the bank, are entitled to priority of payment.

In the case of the First National Bank of New Orleans, other questions have arisen. At the date of its suspension the bank was in charge of officers of the Government, who were also engaged in the settlement of the accounts of a defaulting ex-assistant treasurer of the United States. The nominal balance to the personal credit of this individual upon the books of the bank was $315,779.10, and a certified check for this amount was taken from him, and about $94,000 collected upon it. The Government holds this check, and claims that the balance uncollected shall have priority in payment, the same as if that amount had been on deposit to the credit of the United States. The creditors of the bank, on the other hand, claim that, at the time of the suspension, the bank held legal offsets, and that there was really no balance due upon the check held by the Government. The receiver concurs in this opinion, and if the claim should be presented to him in the usual way for settlement, it would be disallowed.

Unsuccessful attempts have been made to obtain a final decision in the Supreme Court of the United States upon these questions, owing, in part, as is believed, to defects in the present act. A large amount of funds has been on deposit with the Treasurer for the last three years, which will be distributed among the creditors as soon as a decision of the court can be obtained upon these points.

Section 50 of the national currency act provides that the Comptroller shall make a ratable dividend upon all claims which may be proved to his satisfaction or adjudicated in a court of competent jurisdiction; and this is the only existing provision in reference to the method of procedure in the proving of claims against an insolvent bank. The law should be so amended as to define the duties of the Comptroller and of the receiver in proving claims and in prescribing the mode and manner of referring conflicting interests to the proper tribunal for final arbitrament. A bill for this purpose was introduced into the last Congress, reported by the Bank Committee, and referred to the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives. The passage of this bill will facilitate the settlement of the affairs of these banks, and simplify the method of procedure in all cases of insolvent banks.

An amendment is also suggested giving authority for the return of the assets of an insolvent bank to an agent of the shareholders upon their unanimous request, after full payment shall have been made to the creditors of the bank.

Where dividends are delayed by reason of protracted litigation, provision should also be made for the investment of the funds on deposit with the Treasurer in interest-bearing securities.

SURPLUS AND SPECIE.

The law requires that every national bank shall carry one-tenth part of its profits to surplus-fund account before the declaration of a dividend, until the same shall amount to 20 per cent. of its capital stock. This wise provision has been generally observed, and the returns show that the banks now have a surplus of more than one hundred millions of dollars, and considerably more than one-fifth of their capital in surplus account. The act also limits the liabilities of any association, person, company, or corporation, for money borrowed, to one-tenth of the capital stock paid in. The Comptroller recommends that this limit be extended to one-tenth of the capital and surplus, which will have a tendency to increase the surplus fund beyond the limit required by the law.

Banks have hitherto been in the habit of reporting, as specie, checks payable in coin. The result is to give an erroneous aggregate of the amount of coin held by the banks, the same amount being reported by the bank holding the coin and the bank holding the check. In the present statement, and in all future statements, the item of coin will include only actual coin and United States coin certificates which are payable on demand at the Treasury.

SHINPLASTERS.

The State of Alabama has issued for some years past, in the form and similitude of bank notes, of five different denominations, certificates which read as follows:

"The State of Alabama: Receivable as five dollars in payment of all dues to the State. Montgomery, May 1, 1867.

(Signed) ——— ——— Governor.

(Signed) ——— ——— Comptroller of Public Accounts."

On the reverse:

"Receivable in payment of taxes and all dues to the State. Issued under the provisions of the act entitled 'An act to provide for the issue of certificates or receipts by the State,' approved February 19, 1867. The credit and faith of the State of Alabama are pledged for the redemption of this certificate or receipt, as provided for in such act."

A circular was also issued by the governor of Alabama, on July 24, 1867, and is still in circulation, which states that an opinion has been obtained from the Attorney-General of the United States that such receipts or certificates are not subject to the tax of ten per cent. imposed upon the notes of State banks by the act of March 3, 1865, and recommending the co-operation of banks and bankers in giving circulation to the issues referred to. The Constitution of the United States provides that no State shall emit bills of credit, and it has been held by the Supreme Court of the United States, in a famous case,* that a note of circulation "issued by a State, involving the faith of the State, and designed to circulate as money on the credit of the State, in the ordinary course of business," is a bill of credit. Other decisions of the Supreme Court hold "that certificates issued by a State in sums not exceeding ten dollars nor less than fifty cents, receivable in payment of taxes, the faith and credit of the State being pledged for their redemption, are bills of credit within the prohibition of the Constitution."*

* Briscoe vs. Bank of Kentucky, 11 Pet., 257.

It is clear, therefore, that such certificates are bills of credit, and prohibited by the Constitution. Savings-banks, railroad, municipal, and other corporations in the States of Florida, Georgia, and other Southern States have followed the example of the State of Alabama, and have issued, and are still issuing, a large amount of similar circulation, some in the form of receipts and certificates, and others in the form of railroad tickets, but all issued in the form and similitude of bank-notes, and intended to circulate as money. There is no law in existence to prevent the circulation, and no legislative provision for the enforcement of the constitutional prohibition of such issues. The act of July 17, 1862, makes it a penal offense "to make, issue, circulate, or pay any note, check, memorandum, token, or other obligation for a less sum than one dollar, intended to circulate as money, or be received or used in lieu of lawful money." It is recommended that this act be so amended as to prohibit, absolutely, the issue of such circulation, and thus prevent great ultimate loss to the people, among whom such notes are now obtaining extensive credit.

A few national banks have gone into liquidation and re-organized as State banks, retaining their national title. State savings-banks and private companies have also assumed the title of "national." These corporations and companies erect large signs over their doors, issue conspicuous advertisements, and obtain recognition in the counterfeit detectors among lists of national banks, thus transacting business under false colors, which, of itself, should be sufficient to put all business men upon their guard. Such abuses should, however, be prohibited, and the Comptroller recommends the passage of an act prohibiting the use of the word "national" as a title for banks other than those organized under the national currency act.

He also recommends that all officers of national banks, and all Government depositaries, be required to stamp the word "counterfeit" or "illegal" upon all counterfeit and unauthorized issues presented at their counters.

BANKS OF CIRCULATION.

The national currency act is, to a certain extent, deficient in a provision for the prompt closing up of national banks pursuing an illegitimate business. These banks are of two classes. One class organize or attempt to organize and pay up their capital stock with the notes of shareholders instead of cash capital, as required by law. A few such cases have been forced into liquidation by withholding the issue of circulation, and in one instance the Solicitor has been requested to bring a suit for the forfeiture of charter for willful violation of law, as provided in section 53 of the act. In all similar cases hereafter proceedings will be commenced for a like purpose. In other cases, banks which have lost a large portion of their capital refuse to go into liquidation, transacting no business, but in other respects conform to the requirements of the law, for the purpose of receiving the interest upon their bonds. The stockholders of these banks, in some instances, have the means to restore the capital, but refuse; in others, a portion of the shareholders desire to pursue a legitimate business, but another portion refuse to respond to assessments. The Comptroller respectfully recommends that in these cases authority be given to withhold the interest upon the bonds, and to commence proceedings for the forfeiture of charter, and that a penalty be imposed. These cases are not numerous, but a remedy is needed to terminate the existence of such associations, and no penalty is too severe for this evasion of the law. With proper legislation, and the co-operation of banks doing a legitimate business, an example may be made of illegitimate institutions, which will prevent the organization of banks without the full amount of capital paid up in cash, as required by law.

EXAMINATIONS.

It is the intention of the Comptroller that every national bank shall be thoroughly examined once a year by a competent bank examiner. Every director and shareholder is personally interested in these examinations, if properly conducted. No well-managed bank will object to a confidential scrutiny of its affairs, but will welcome at all times, as is generally the case, a competent and courteous agent of the Department. Many valuable suggestions may be obtained from the experience of an intelligent examiner, and, in not a few instances, banks have been saved from ruin by timely interference in the correction of abuses. In some instances information is received at this office of violations of law which call for special examinations, but which cannot be made because there is no means of paying the expense of conducting such examinations. If the bank is found in fault, it will respond to an assessment; if not, it should not be subjected to an expense not authorized by law. The Comptroller, therefore, respectfully asks for an appropriation of $3,000, in order that he may at all times be free to pursue such inquiries as he shall consider expedient for the protection of the creditors of such associations. Prompt action in cases of this kind is very desirable, and the expense incurred is trifling when compared with the public interests involved.

MUTILATED CURRENCY.

Section 24 of the act provides that the worn-out and mutilated circulating notes of the national banks "shall be burned to ashes in the presence of four persons, one to be appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury, one by the Comptroller of the Currency, one by the Treasurer of the United States, and one by the association, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe." From the organization of the system in 1863 to November 1, 1872, $86,695,305, more than one-fourth of the whole amount issued, has been returned to this office for destruction, as follows:

Previous to November 1, 1865	$175,490
During the year ended October 31, 1866	1,050,382
During the year ended October 31, 1867	3,401,423
During the year ended October 31, 1868	4,602,825
During the year ended October 31, 1869	8,603,729
During the year ended October 31, 1870	14,305,689
During the year ended October 31, 1871	24,344,047
During the year ended October 31, 1872	30,211,720

It is probable that the amount of mutilated currency to be returned hereafter for re-issue will exceed thirty millions of dollars annually, and that the whole amount of national-bank circulation will be re-issued as often as once in ten years. An additional force will be required for the careful performance of this duty.

No effort will be spared by the Comptroller to have the provision of the law in reference to the burning of mutilated notes and the prompt issue of new notes in their place strictly executed; and the national banks of the country are urged to send forward such notes as frequently as possible, in order that the currency of the country may be kept in the best possible condition. The officers and depositaries of the United States can render efficient service in purifying the currency, by sorting out all mutilated notes of the national banks and presenting the same to their agents in New York City and elsewhere, for redemption.

THE OFFICE.

The force of this office consists of the Deputy Comptroller, fifty-six male clerks, and twenty-eight female clerks. The work of the office is continually increasing. More than twelve thousand reports of national banks are received annually and carefully scrutinized. More than one hundred million dollars of United States bonds have been received, transferred, and deposited with the Treasurer during the past year, and twenty-five millions of dollars of bonds have been withdrawn and surrendered to the banks. Thirty millions of dollars of mutilated currency have been received, counted, and destroyed, and fifty-two millions of dollars of new currency issued to the banks. Many thousands of communications are annually received and promptly answered. If any success shall attend the administration of the responsible duties of the office, the Comptroller will be in a large measure indebted to the industry and efficiency of the Deputy Comptroller, of the competent corps of examiners, and of the chiefs of the different divisions, and to the services of experienced clerks, who have assisted him in the discharge of these duties. A re-organization of the office, with increased pay corresponding to the responsibility of the different positions, would be a proper recognition of services which have too long been well performed without corresponding compensation.

APPENDIX.

Special attention is called to the carefully prepared tables contained in the appendix, exhibiting the aggregate resources and liabilities of all the national banks, yearly, for the last ten years; to tables showing their condition during the present year, for five different periods, arranged by States and redemption cities, and separate statements of every bank of the Union upon the third day of October ultimo; also to tables exhibiting the different kinds of funds held as reserve; the dividends and earnings of the national banks, by States and cities, semi-annually, from March 1, 1869, to August 31, 1872; together with lists of insolvent banks, and banks which have gone into voluntary liquidation, and the amounts and different kinds of United States bonds deposited with the Treasurer as security for circulating-notes. The appendix also contains an exhibit of the capital and dividends, semi-annually, for two years, of one hundred and sixteen of the leading banks of Great Britain and Ireland; and the interest laws of Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and Connecticut.

THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, November 30, 1872.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith the tabular statements made up from the accounts of this Office, which the Secretary of the Treasury is required to lay before Congress, as follows:

Table A, showing the receipts from each specific source of revenue, and the amounts refunded in each collection district, State, and Territory of the United States for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1872.

Table B, showing the number and value of internal revenue stamps ordered monthly by the Commissioner, the receipts from the sale of stamps, and the commissions allowed on the same; also the number and value of stamps for tobacco, cigars, snuff, distilled spirits, and fermented liquors, issued monthly to collectors during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1872.

Table C, showing the territorial distribution of internal revenue from various sources in the United States for the fiscal years ended June 30, 1864, 1865, 1866, 1867, 1868, 1869, 1870, 1871, and 1872.

Table D, showing the aggregate receipts from each collection district, State, and Territory for the fiscal years ended June 30, 1863, 1864, 1865, 1866, 1867, 1868, 1869, 1870, 1871, and 1872.

Table E, showing the total collections from each specific source of revenue for the fiscal years ended June 30, 1863, 1864, 1865, 1866, 1867, 1868, 1869, 1870, 1871, and 1872.

Table F, showing the ratio of receipts from specific sources to the aggregate of all collections for the fiscal years ended June 30, 1864, 1865, 1866, 1867, 1868, 1869, 1870, 1871, and 1872.

Table G, an abstract of reports of district attorneys, concerning suits and prosecutions under the internal revenue laws during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1872.

Table H, an abstract of seizures of property for violation of internal revenue laws during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1872.

Table I, showing the number of proof gallons of spirits in each collection district, State, and Territory in the United States, exclusive of the quantity in internal revenue warehouses, May 1, 1872.

The aggregate receipts from all sources, exclusive of the duty upon the capital, circulation, and deposits of national banks, were for the fiscal years ended June 30—

1870	$185,235,867 97
1871	144,011,176 24
1872	131,770,946 73

These amounts include sums refunded and allowed on drawbacks.

Digitized by Google

The decrease in the aggregate receipts for the last two years is due to legislation approved July 14, 1870, which reduced the revenue to the estimated amount of $55,000,000 per annum, but which did not go into full operation before the close of the fiscal year 1871.

The amount of drawbacks and sums refunded for taxes illegally assessed and collected for the last three years, were as follows:

	Drawback.	Sums refunded.
1870	$5,838 55	$196,809 81
1871	22,887 97	617,581 07
1872	13,704 67	587,609 19

The total amount of drawback allowed by this Office prior to June 30, 1872, was $6,526,514 67, and of sums refunded, $4,719,806 56. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1872, drawbacks were allowed only on general merchandise under section 171, act of June 30, 1864, limited by act of March 31, 1868.

The total quantity of spirits in the United States not in internal revenue warehouses on the 1st of May, 1872, was 39,672,197 proof-gallons.

I would recommend that section 54 of the act of July 20, 1868, as amended by the act of June 6, 1872, be further amended so as to authorize you, in a more explicit manner than at present provided, to require export bonds of persons applying to export distilled spirits for the benefit of drawback. It is desirable that the language on this point should be perfectly clear and unquestionable, inasmuch as the exportation of spirits on which the tax has not been paid will be affected thereby as well as that provided for in section 54.

By the act of June 6, 1872, the fees of gaugers and the per diem compensation of storekeepers were made payable by the United States without re-imbursement by distillers, except by the increased rate of tax on distilled spirits, this increased rate having been determined partly by taking into account the amount heretofore paid for the services of such officers. But experience has already demonstrated that the amount to be paid will be not only greater (notwithstanding my most strenuous efforts to the contrary) than ever before, but also greater in proportion to the quantity of spirits produced.

It is apparent that the retention of spirits in the warehouse after the distiller has ceased operations, extends the time for payment of the tax due, and is therefore for his benefit only. In view of this, and the foregoing statement, I would recommend that when a distiller has ceased operations, the pay of the storekeeper for subsequent services at his distillery warehouse, in consequence of spirits remaining therein, shall be re-imbursed to the United States by the distiller.

FERMENTED LIQUORS.

By the act of June 6, 1872, the act of July 13, 1866, so far as it relates to fermented liquors, was re-enacted with some amendments, made at the solicitation of the principal brewers of the United States, designed to afford brewers better facilities than heretofore for the conduct of their business under internal revenue laws.

These concessions do not appear to have been of a character to endanger the public interests, as the following statement will show:

The tax received on fermented liquors at $1 per barrel during the first quarter of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1872, was $2,217,291 93, while the receipts from the same source during the first three months of the present fiscal year amount to $2,684,241, an increase of $466,949 07.

The average increase of about a million dollars annually during the last three fiscal years, as contrasted with the stationary character of the receipts during the four years next preceding, is certainly gratifying, but the increase during the first three months of the present fiscal year, as above stated, far exceeds that of any corresponding period in any other year since the organization of this Office.

The tax received on fermented liquors, at $1 per barrel, was, for the years—

1867	$5,819,345 49	1870	$6,081,520 54
1868	5,685,663 70	1871	7,159,740 20
1869	5,866,400 98	1872	8,009,969 72

The number of persons engaged in the manufacture of fermented liquors during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1872, was 3,421, distributed as follows: Alabama, 5; Arizona, 10; Arkansas, 1; California, 226; Colorado, 36; Connecticut, 25; Dakota, 6; Delaware, 2; District of Columbia, 15; Florida, 2; Georgia, 4; Idaho, 12; Illinois, 216; In-

I would recommend that sections 18 and 22 be so amended as to provide for packages known as "thirds." The act of March 2, 1867, authorized their use to accommodate brewers west of the Rocky Mountains, who are compelled to send their products from their breweries to the consumer or retailer on the backs of mules; this sized package being specially adapted to such a mode of conveyance. "Thirds" appear to have been omitted in the act of June 6, 1872, through inadvertence, and they should be restored.

The amendments made by the act of June 6, 1872, to section 59 of the act of July 20, 1868, as amended April 10, 1869, relating to the special taxes for selling spirituous and malt liquors and wines, were, it has appeared to me, intended simply to provide that, in addition to the former classes of liquor dealers, there should be two classes at a lower special tax authorized to sell malt liquors only, leaving to the former classes of liquor dealers the privilege of selling malt liquors which they previously possessed; also leaving unchanged the exemption from special tax as wholesale dealers extended to brewers who sold fermented liquors of their own production at the brewery in the original packages. Nevertheless that intention is not so clearly expressed by the language of the section as amended as is desirable in so important a provision of law.

To prevent the injustice which might be done by acting upon a more technical construction of the language used as to the several classes of liquor dealers and malt liquor dealers, I issued on the 30th of September last instructions to assessors and collectors to make assessments and collections in accordance with the above expressed view of the intentions of Congress, until I could bring the question to the attention of that body; and I also suspended the collection of all assessments which had been made contrary to that construction.

In view of this, I would respectfully recommend that the language of the section be made more explicit. I would also recommend that retail dealers in malt liquors be limited in their sales to quantities less than five gallons, and that those selling in quantities of five gallons and upwards be required to pay the wholesale dealer's tax.

Showing an increase in the total receipts from the manufacture and sale of tobacco in all its forms, over the receipts from the same sources for the preceding fiscal year, of $157,263 34.

ANNUAL PRODUCTION.

The quantity of manufactured tobacco represented by the collection of taxes from this source for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1872, is as follows:

	Pounds.
Of chewing tobacco, snuff, &c., class 32 cents	58,358,029
Of smoking tobacco, scraps, shorts, &c., class 16 cents	36,851,290
Exported to foreign countries	9,565,981
Excess in warehouses June 30, 1872, over June 30, 1871	2,485,555
Total product for the year	107,260,855

The number of cigars, cheroots, &c., on which taxes were collected during the last fiscal year, was 1,527,705,972.

From the above statement it will be seen that the entire product of manufactured tobacco reported for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1872, exceeds the total product of the preceding fiscal year by 1,431,892 pounds, while the aggregate quantity which reached taxation for the last fiscal year was only 73,815 pounds in excess of the quantity which reached taxation the preceding year.

During the last fiscal year the quantity of class 16 cents, or smoking tobacco, was increased by 6,333,654 pounds, while the quantity of class 32 cents, or chewing tobacco, was diminished by 6,259,839 pounds, as compared with the preceding year. This change in the relative proportions of the two classes of tobacco was owing, no doubt, in a great measure, to the agitation of the question of taxation during several months prior to the passage of the act of June 6, 1872, which provides for a uniform rate of 20 cents per pound on all descriptions of manufactured tobacco, in lieu of a graded tax. The anticipated increase of tax on class 16 cents smoking tobacco greatly stimulated the production and sale of this grade of tobacco during the last months of the year, while the prospect of a decrease of tax on class 32 cents, or chewing tobacco, operated largely to diminish the sale or removal, except in bond, of this grade of tobacco. Since July 1, the time when the new rate of taxation took effect, the sale and removal of plug and other kinds of tobacco on which the tax was diminished has been unprecedently large, and the collections for the first quarter of the present fiscal year from tobacco are greatly in excess of those made from the same source during the same quarter for any previous fiscal year.

UNIFORM RATE OF TAX.

So far as I am able to judge, the law providing for a uniform rate of tax on all manufactured tobacco, whether chewing or smoking, is operating very satisfactorily. There is now no reason why revenue officers should examine into the modes of manufacturing tobacco employed by any one, or for opening or examining any package to ascertain the character of its contents. If the package is a legal one, and has upon it a proper revenue stamp denoting the payment of the tax, with such additional marks, brands, and labels as the law prescribes, no officer is authorized to examine it further. Owing to the disturbing causes already referred to which have affected the trade for some months past it is now too early to predict with entire certainty what will be the actual result of the present uniform tax on the amount of revenue to be collected. I have, however, reason to believe that, with the additional safe guards provided by the new law against the sale of manufactured tobacco in fraud of the revenue, and with the taxes imposed upon the sale at retail of raw or leaf tobacco for consumption without its being subjected to any process of manufacture, the collections from tobacco under the uniform rate of 20 cents a pound, which is a reduction of more than six cents a pound from the average rate for the last two fiscal years, will reach nearly if not quite the sums realized for either of the same years. In making this estimate I am relying upon making collections on from eight to ten millions of pounds more of manufactured tobacco in consequence of the restrictions which the act of June 6, 1872, has placed upon the sale, for consumption, of raw or leaf tobacco.

By the act of June 6, 1872, the system of export bonded warehouses authorized by the act of July 20, 1868, was abolished, and the several warehouses established under said act are to be discontinued after the expiration of six months from the passage of the first named act. As the average quantity of tobacco withdrawn for export and consumption for the fiscal years ended June 30, 1871, and June 30, 1872, respectively, exceeded twenty millions of pounds, it was thought at the time of the passage of the law that six months would be ample time for the holders of tobacco then in bond, which was considerably less than eight millions of pounds, but increased after the passage of the act to the quantity given above as the balance on the 1st day of July, either to withdraw the same for export, or for sale and consumption, upon the payment of the tax. The reports received from month to month from the collectors in charge of bonded warehouses show that this quantity has been constantly diminishing, so that no great hardship will be imposed upon the owners of this tobacco by requiring them to affix stamps and withdraw the comparatively small quantity remaining in the warehouses at the expiration of the six months which the law allows for closing them out. This view of the case is especially apparent when the fact is taken into consideration that the owners of this tobacco have already had six months' credit for the taxes due on all of it, and on a considerable portion, a much longer time; and also the further fact, that these tobaccos, after having been stamped, can at any time be exported, and the owners obtain a drawback for the amount of tax which shall be shown to have been paid on them. In Baltimore the two warehouses have already been closed out by the action of the warehouse men, and I have given instructions to the different collectors under whose control the other warehouses are, to take the proper steps to close them all out immediately upon the expiration of the time fixed by law, by advertising for sale by the Government all tobacco which shall not then have been withdrawn by the owners.

The act of June 6, 1872, provides two modes for the exportation of manufactured tobacco to foreign countries. First, directly from the manufactory without the payment of any tax; and secondly, from the store or warehouse of the jobber, dealer, or commission merchant, after the tax has been paid, with an allowance of drawback on the presentation of proper evidence that the tobacco has been exported and landed in a foreign country or lost at sea. The few months that have intervened since the adoption of the new system have by no means afforded sufficient opportunity to test its practicability. Thus far, the two systems have both been in operation at the same time, the tobacco stored in warehouses being exported under the regulations in force at the time when the late act was passed, while direct exportations from the manufactories have been made under the new regulations. The two systems operating concurrently have not tended to harmony. I have seen nothing, however, as yet, which leads me to distrust the practicability and complete success of the provisions made by the act of June 6, 1872, for facilitating the exportation of tobacco to foreign countries. Any radical change in the law and regulations touching a business so varied and extensive as is the tobacco trade, requires time for persons engaged in it to accustom themselves to the alteration. For this reason such changes should be as infrequent as possible, and only made upon urgent necessity. That such a necessity existed for abolishing the old system of bonded warehouses at ports of entry, which allowed tobacco to be stored therein for home consumption as well as for export, and to be withdrawn therefrom at any time upon the payment of the tax, few persons except those who enjoyed the privileges of such warehouses have expressed a doubt. Under the present law the credit system is entirely dispensed with, and no special privileges are given for making a monopoly of the trade in manufactured tobacco. All tobacco is required to have proper stamps affixed, indicating the payment of the tax, before it is removed from the place where it is made, except that which is intended for and actually bonded for export to a foreign country before it leaves the manufactory. This system, it is believed, will greatly widen the field for exportation, since it provides for direct shipments from any district in the country, the manufacturer filing his bonds and completing his shipping papers in his own district. It provides, also, for the shipment of tax-paid tobacco by any person who desires to export, giving him an allowance of drawback for the taxes paid; a privilege which was not allowed under the previous law. Persons having in their possession tax-paid tobacco, however badly damaged and unsalable, even to such a degree as to render it worthless for sale or consumption, can, by exporting the same, always realize therefrom an amount equal to the tax.

NEW DIES FOR CANCELLATION OF STAMPS.

Since the passage of the act of June 6, 1872, which authorizes the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to prescribe such instruments for cancelling stamps for tobacco, &c., as he and the Secretary of the Treasury may approve, a steel die for the cancellation of registered tobacco stamps has been prepared and furnished to every manufacturer of plug and fine-cut chewing tobacco in the country at the expense of the Government. This die is so constructed as to drive several portions of every stamp into the wooden package and lodge them there, so that if the stamp should be taken from the package it would be quite impossible to supply the portions thus driven into the wood to be re-used on any other package; and without the presence of the portions required to be driven into the wood, the fraud would immediately be apparent.

The use of this die is made imperative by regulations, and its operation is very generally satisfactory. With an entire re-issue of tobacco stamps, which has been made within the last year, printed on paper which the Government has made for this special use, and printed with different colored impressions, so as to preclude the possibility of counterfeiting by photography, with a more perfect cancellation effected with the new die, I am not aware that any new or additional device or contrivance of a mechanical nature is required to perfect the machinery which the Government is employing to collect the taxes on tobacco. Some additional device may be required to prevent the re-use of cigar-boxes from which the stamps have not been removed or destroyed. Should any such device hereafter be found which commends itself to the Government, there is authority given in the amended law for its adoption.

The present law relating to tobacco, though not claimed to be perfect, undoubtedly contains in its various provisions the practical results obtained from ten years of experience in internal revenue enactments. Under this law the tobacco business is believed to be safe and prosperous, while equal and ample protection is given to all. For these reasons I advise that there be no additional legislation on this subject at present.

The following table exhibits a comparison of the receipts from all sources taxable during the last two fiscal years, not already presented in this report:

The increase on banks and bankers is $983,988; on gas, $258,596; and on adhesive stamps, $834,581. The decrease in the receipts of income from individuals was $6,510,961. $1,785,172 were, however, offset by the increase in the returns from corporations, so that the balance shows a total decrease of only $4,725,789. The large apparent falling off in the receipts of income from individuals is chiefly owing to a difference in the rate of tax. Of the $14,434,950, exclusive of the salary tax returned in 1871, $10,680,967, or nearly 75 per cent. were collected at 5 per cent. under act of March 2, 1867, while the balance for that year and the whole amount for 1872 were returned under act of July 14, 1870, at 2½ per cent. Estimating 2½ per cent. on the taxable income of the two years, there is a difference of only $677,781 in favor of 1871. The collections on the annual and monthly lists of 1871 amounted to $7,625,409. The receipts to date on the lists of 1872 are slightly in excess of eight millions of dollars.

I present herewith a statement of the receipts for the first quarter of the present fiscal year, in connection with those of like character for the corresponding period of the year preceding. Returns from the following districts not having been received at the date of this report are not included in the receipts for the first quarter of the current year,

The increase on spirits for the above period is $1,279,273; on tobacco, $481,256; on fermented liquors, $468,331; on penalties, 37,789. Total increase, $2,266,649. The falling off in receipts from banks and bankers is due to provisions in the act of June 6, 1872, one of which raises the exemption of all sums deposited in savings banks, &c., in the name of one person from $500 to $2,000, and the other exempts certain borrowed capital.

The decrease in the receipts from income is owing to the expiration of the tax by limitation with the assessment on incomes for the calendar year 1871. The receipts from stamps for the first quarter of the present fiscal year were doubtless diminished in anticipation of the repeal, October 1, ultimo, of all general stamps except those on bank checks, drafts, or orders. The receipts from sources formerly taxed, but now exempt, being collections on old lists, are of course constantly decreasing.

The receipts for the last fiscal year exceeded my estimate by $6,770,946 73.

Important changes having been made in the law by act of June 6, 1872, touching spirits and tobacco, it is impossible to state with certainty at this early day how much the receipts for the current fiscal year will be affected by the modified provisions of the law. From the best information now obtainable, I estimate that they will not fall short under the present law of $110,000,000.

CONSOLIDATION OF DISTRICTS.

The act of June 6, 1872, required the reduction of the internal revenue districts in the United States to not exceeding eighty in number, by uniting two or more districts into one; and also the reduction of the minor officers in the service to as small a number as would be consistent with their limited duties. Immediately upon the passage of this act general inquiry for information was made with a view to a prompt compliance with the law. This inquiry early developed the opinion of the leading officers in the service, whose positions rendered them impartial in the matter, that to consolidate at once would largely interfere, to the loss of the Government, with the collection of taxes from assessments under repealed laws then in the hands of collectors. These collections could only be made with dispatch and certainty by those acquainted with the special localities and circumstances of tax-payers. To avoid a much greater loss by this untimely disturbance than could possibly be compensated by the consequent reduced expenditure, temporary delay was universally advised and finally determined upon. The interim was used in pushing to a rapid close the collection of these balances. The result has justified the propriety of the delay. It was estimated that by the act of June, 1872, the whole amount of internal revenue, exclusive of the balances under repealed laws, would be about $110,000,000 per annum; while the actual receipts for the first quarter of the current fiscal year were at the rate of $135,400,000, showing several millions of dollars in excess of the estimated receipts, and this very considerably from taxes due under the repealed laws. To have violently taken the lists containing these evidences of taxation out of the hands of almost every two of three collectors and committed them to the care of the remaining one would have introduced dangerous delay in the receipts and would probably have caused large loss at last. The collections have been large, and reflect great credit upon the officers.

The act of June 6 reduced the duties of assessors and assistant assess-ers so as to leave but three things, which could not be done with equal propriety by the collectors and their deputies, two classes of officers remaining, both numerous and expensive, for a work that one class could as well do. The three duties referred to are the assessment of the deficiency taxes on distillers, an exceptional tax, only occasionally due, and the data for assessing which are always at hand from daily reports in this office. The majority of such assessments being reviewed and re-adjusted under the present system, all of them could as readily be certified from this Office to the collectors in the first instance. This would insure uniformity of adjustment, a thing almost impossible where two or three hundred unassociated minds are reading and interpreting law and regulations. Second, the special or license taxes, which are collected as a general rule but once (May) each year. The special tax certificates can be issued in books, as are the spirit and tobacco stamps, and charged to the collectors at their face value, crediting them (collectors) only with cash or the unused certificates returned to this Office. This system works admirably in the matter of spirits and tobacco, and can be very easily adapted to this other source of revenue. The third, and only remaining duty with which the collectors might not be entirely intrusted, is the tax on banks and bankers. This tax is payable but twice during each year, and is the sole remaining tax on corporations. The tax upon corporations was at one period all collected directly by this Office, at a time when it extended to railroad, insurance, canal and turnpike companies, in addition to banks and bankers. The history of this class of taxation shows that when so collected it was well collected, and the whole work done by less than fifteen clerks, at an average salary not exceeding $1,400 per annum each. If fifteen men could collect this tax when it reached $13,000,000 per annum and embraced five species under the class, all of them requiring monthly returns, it is not seen why a comparatively smaller number may not now manage one-fifth of the class, and only yielding, as estimated for the current fiscal year, $800,000 in all. It further appeared that the exceptional labor could be done in this Office without increasing its force materially, and thus enable the discharge of the entire body of assessing officers. Inasmuch as the plan of reduction under the act of June 6 only provided absolutely for the reduction of some two-thirds of the principal officers, (460 in all,) and left the reduction of the assistants (over 1,300) discretionary, it seemed to be the better plan to ask Congress to make the larger reduction and make that absolute. It is not an easy matter to put out of commission a thousand or more officers. Experience has demonstrated that nothing short of unequivocal, inexorable law can surely do it. Discretion admits of doubt and suggests delay.

In view of the great confusion and loss of revenue anticipated by a general disturbance of the collecting offices; the simplicity and security of a system which shall have but one class of officers and those all under bonds; the fact that nothing is left for the assessing class to do that cannot be done either by the collectors or this Office; and that a saving of from one to two millions per annum of expense in salaries, &c., greater than would be effected under the act of June last, can safely be anticipated, I have had prepared the outlines of a law which will give effect to the above idea. This will be presented to the proper committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate immediately upon their assemblage in December proximo. If it is the judgment of Congress that this plan is preferable to that contemplated by the act of June, I ask their early adoption of its provisions, that it may be put into operation completely by the 30th of June, 1873.

In preparing the proposed plan I have consulted freely with the leading officers now in the service, as well as with many of those who heretofore have been prominent in it. Without an exception it has met their hearty concurrence. They have commended it with a view to its simplicity, concentration of responsibility, economy, and the just expectation of the nation that no more officers shall be retained than are clearly necessary for the due enforcement of the law. In this recommendation I have not forgotten that the plan, if accepted by Congress, will bring personal inconvenience to many of the ablest and best citizens of the country, now and for years in the service; and while I express the tribute of this Office to their intelligent, faithful, and efficient discharge of important duties, I cannot but suppose that their individual loss will be largely compensated in the consciousness of a great public gain.

Respectfully,

J. W. DOUGLASS,
Commissioner.

Hon. GEORGE S. BOUTWELL,
Secretary of the Treasury.

MAPS TO ILLUSTRATE VOLUMES OF NINTH CENSUS.

LETTER

FROM THE

SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR,

RELATIVE TO

The importance of illustrating the three quarto volumes of the ninth census

DECEMBER 3, 1872.—Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and ordered to be printed.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington, D. C., June 5, 1872.

SIR: I have the honor to invite the attention of Congress to the importance of graphically illustrating the three quarto volumes of the ninth census of the United States, by a series of maps exhibiting to the eye the varying intensity of settlement over the area of the country, the distribution among the several States and sections of the foreign population, and of the principal elements thereof, the location of the great manufacturing and mining industries, the range of cultivation for each of the staple productions of agriculture, the prevalence of particular forms of disease, and other facts of material and social importance which have been obtained through said census.

I have carefully examined several specimen-maps, prepared by hand in the office of the Superintendent of Census, and have inquired into the feasibility of reproducing such maps or charts in a satisfactory manner and in large numbers, at an expense not disproportionate to the benefits to be derived from such a graphic presentation of the main results of the census. I am satisfied that twenty maps can be prepared and printed, in editions corresponding to the editions authorized of the three quarto volumes of the ninth census, and in the best style of the art, at a cost not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars.

Believing that not only the popular appreciation of this work, but also its substantial benefits, would amply repay such an expenditure, I respectfully submit an estimate of appropriations for the sum of $25,000 for the purpose, and commend the subject for early and favorable consideration by Congress.

I am, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

C. DELANO,
Secretary.

Hon. JAMES G. BLAINE,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

NET PROCEEDS CLAIM, CHOCTAW INDIANS.

LETTER

FROM

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,

RELATIVE TO

The claim of the Choctaw Indians known as the "net proceeds claim."

DECEMBER 3, 1872.—Referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs and ordered to be printed.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Office of the Secretary, June 6, 1872.

SIR: Several weeks since a statement was made to the Department that the claim of the Choctaw Indians, known as the "net proceeds claim," was not founded in equity, and that an examination would show that it ought not to be paid by the Government. Upon this representation I directed the Solicitor of the Treasury to hear the parties who professed to have knowledge of the circumstances connected with the treaty of 1855 with the Choctaw Nation, of the statement of the account between that nation and the United States under that treaty, and of the action of the Senate in the year 1859; and he was also directed to examine all the treaties with that nation, for the purpose of ascertaining whether there was any foundation for the statements made to the Department.

The Solicitor has made the examination as directed, and submitted his report, a copy of which I have the honor to transmit herewith to the House of Representatives.

The account, as stated by the Department of the Interior, under the treaty of 1855 and the resolution of the Senate of March 9, 1859, showed a balance due to the Choctaw Nation of $2,232,560.85. The sum of $250,000 was appropriated to the Choctaw Indians in the year 1861, and at the same time authority was given for an issue of bonds on the same account in the sum of $250,000.

The bonds have not yet been delivered, but an application is now pending in the Department, by persons claiming to represent the Choctaw Indians, for the issue of the bonds without delay.

Proceedings are, moreover, pending in the Supreme Court of the United States, seeking to compel the Secretary of the Treasury to issue the bonds to another party, claiming them under an order or assignment alleged to have been made by the agents of the Choctaw Nation several years since.

Digitized by Google

The report of the Solicitor of the Treasury and an examination of the treaties of 1830 and 1855, with the Choctaw Indians, aided by such information as I have been able to obtain from other sources, tend very strongly to show that there is no equitable ground on which the Government can be required to issue the bonds in question, or make payment of the large sum of money covered by the claim of the Choctaw Nation.

The Department, however, has not had the means of a thorough examination, nor will there be time during the present session of Congress for the proper inquiries by a committee of either House; and I have, therefore, the honor to suggest that a bill or joint resolution be passed authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to delay the issue of the bonds until there shall have been further investigation and action by Congress.

Very respectfully,

GEO. S. BOUTWELL,
Secretary.

Hon. JAMES G. BLAINE,
Speaker House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE,
OFFICE OF THE SOLICITOR OF THE TREASURY,
Washington, D. C., May 29, 1872.

SIR: I have, at your verbal request, examined certain questions which have been brought to your notice affecting your obligation, under the laws of Congress, to pay over to the Choctaw Nation certain bonds, the delivery of which claim is made upon you.

I find that no objections to such delivery are made, except such as can be gathered from the various treaties made with the Choctaw Nation, and the action taken by Congress upon the claim which has been presented.

I will briefly recite the substantial points of the treaties which are relied upon to sustain the claim, and indicate my views thereon: I see no occasion to go back further than to the treaty of 1820.

This treaty provides for an exchange of a small part of the lands of the Choctaws, east of the Mississippi River, for a country beyond said river, the purpose being that those Indians wishing to become civilized and to be made citizens should remain, and that those who will not work, but prefer to live by hunting, should go to the new country west of the river.

Article 1 of this treaty cedes a part of the Choctaw lands to the United States, defining the same by bounds.

Article 2 states that, in consideration of said cession by the Choctaw Nation, and in part satisfaction therefor, a certain tract west of the Mississippi River, defined by bounds, is ceded by the United States to the Choctaws.

The other articles of this treaty are beneficial to the Indians, ensuring to subsist those who remove over the river until they arrive at their new home, and that a part of the land ceded to the United States shall be sold to create a school-fund for the benefit of the Indians on both sides of the river, and making other provisions for the comfort and necessities of the Indians.

From the subsequent history of the relations between the Unit-

Digitized by Google

States and the Choctaw Nation, I infer that this treaty, by its various provisions, gave full consideration for the cession to the United States.

The treaty of 1825 retroceded to the United States a part of the lands granted to the Choctaws west of the Mississippi River by the treaty of 1820, and, in consideration therefor, the United States agreed to pay to the Choctaw Nation $6,000 annually forever.

By the treaty of 1830, the Choctaw Nation, in consideration of the several articles thereof, cede to the United States the entire country they own and possess east of the Mississippi River, and agree to remove beyond the river as soon as practicable.

An examination of the various articles of this treaty will show that many of them contain a consideration for this cession highly valuable in its nature.

In article 4 self-government is secured to the Choctaw Nation.

In article 5 the United States agree to protect the Choctaw Nation from domestic strife and foreign enemies.

In article 14 it is provided that each Choctaw head of a family desiring to remain and become a citizen of the United States, shall, upon notice, become entitled to a reservation of one section of 640 acres; to one-half section for each unmarried child over ten years of age living with such head of a family; and to one quarter-section for every child under ten years of age.

This is the reservation clause, which has, I believe, been sometimes considered as the foundation of the present claim.

In article 15 certain specific grants of reservations and annuities are made to chiefs.

In article 16 the United States agree to be at expense of removing and subsisting the Indians to their country west of the river.

In article 17 former annuities are secured and further annuities are provided.

In article 18 there is a provision for the survey of the ceded Choctaw lands, and also this provision: "And for the payment of the several amounts secured in this treaty, the lands hereby ceded are to remain a fund pledged to that purpose, until the debt shall be provided for and arranged."

I can discover no evidence that full provision has not been made for the payment indicated in the foregoing quoted passage, nor do I understand that any claim is set up under that clause. If there is no such claim, it would seem that the lands are free in the possession of the Government, and relieved of all incumbrance under the pledge.

In article 19 certain specific reservations are admitted and confirmed.

Article 20 contains important stipulations, for the benefit of the Choctaw Nation, to be performed by the United States.

The treaty of 1830 appears to me, therefore, to provide a consideration understood and accepted to be ample, which was certainly valuable in character, for the cession by the Choctaw Nation of "the entire country they own and possess east of the Mississippi River."

In 1855, a new treaty was made with the Choctaws and Chickasaws, from the preamble of which it would seem two objects were had in view—

1st. To settle dissensions and controversies between the two tribes of Indians.

2d. To originate what is termed the "net proceeds" claim of the Choctaw Nation.

As I have already said, the treaty of 1830 gave a full consideration for what it received from the Indians, consisting of certain specific things to be done by the United States, which, so far as anything to the contrary appears, were all performed.

That treaty, as I read it, by no language or implication gives countenance to the idea that the United States, after giving the Choctaws a vast country west of the Mississippi River for that given up by them east; after paying all the expenses of the removal of those who migrated, and their subsistence on the journey; after giving all the stipulated reservations to those who chose to remain on their old lands; after making what looks like very liberal provision for personal annuities, for schools, and various other necessities and conveniences of the tribe, still further agreed to hold the lands in the State of Mississippi, ceded by them for these various consideration, in trust as it were, and to pay over to them the "net proceeds" which might accrue from the sale of these lands.

The United States, by the treaty of 1855, do not assent to the "net proceeds" claim thus set up as arising under the treaty of 1830, but it is agreed by the 11th article of the treaty of 1855 that the questions be submitted for adjudication to the Senate of the United States—

1st. Whether the Choctaws are entitled to, or shall be allowed the proceeds of, the sale of the lands ceded by them by the treaty of 1830, in order to a final settlement; or,

2d. Whether they shall be allowed a gross sum in further and full satisfaction of all their claims against the United States, national and individual; and, if so, how much.

Under this article of the treaty, the Senate, on March 9, 1859, adopted the following preamble and resolutions:

"Whereas, the 11th article of the treaty of 1855 provides that the following questions be submitted for decision to the Senate, first, [quoting the words of the article:]

"Resolved, That the Choctaws be allowed the proceeds of the sale of such lands as have been sold by the United States on the first day of January last, (1859,) deducting therefrom the costs of their survey and sale and all proper expenditures and payments under said treaty, excluding the reservation allowed and secured, and estimating the scrip issued in lieu of reservation at the rate of $1.25 per acre; and, further, that they be also allowed 12½ cents per acre for the residue of said lands.

"Resolved, That the Secretary of the Interior cause an account to be stated with the Choctaws, showing what amount is due them according to the above principles of settlement, and report the same to Congress."

By this the Senate resolved that the Choctaws be allowed the net proceeds of the land ceded by the treaty of 1830, but did not make an award of the amount of those proceeds. They resolved, however, that the Secretary of the Interior cause an account to be stated with the Choctaws, showing what amount is due according to the award, and report the same to Congress.

On May 10, 1860, the Secretary of the Interior made his report, which in the House, was laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

In the Senate, the matter was referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs, the chairman of which, on the 19th of June, 1860, made a report in relation thereto, to accompany Senate bill 515, which was read twice and ordered to be printed.

Nothing else was done in either branch of Congress toward carrying out the resolve of the Senate of March 9, 1859.

By the report of the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs, it appears that they came to the conclusion that the Choctaws were entitled to $2,332,560.85 as the net proceeds, and bill 515, accompanying the report, provided for the appropriation and disposition of the amount in accordance with the treaty of 1855.

The 12th and 13th articles of this treaty detail precisely what disposition is to be made of the money found due the Choctaws by the resolve of 1859.

1st. The net proceeds shall be received in full satisfaction of all claims against the United States, national and individual, and the Choctaws shall thereupon become liable and bound to pay all individual claims as shall be adjudged by the tribe to be just; the settlement and payment to be made with advice and under the direction of the United States agent, and so much of the fund awarded by the Senate as shall be necessary to pay the just liabilities of the tribe shall, on their requisition, be paid.

2d. The balance of the amount allowed to the Choctaws under the 12th article of the treaty shall be held in trust by the United States, yielding an interest of not less than 5 per cent., &c. The legislation of 1861, appropriating $250,000 in money and $250,000 in bonds, and any further legislation looking to the payment of the sum found by the Committee on Indian Affairs in 1860 to be due to the Choctaws, is manifestly not in accordance with the treaty of 1855; for, first, nothing can be paid by Congress until the individual claims, which the Choctaws by the treaty assumed to pay, shall be adjudicated by the proper authorities of the tribe, and then only to the amount of such adjudication; and, second, the balance can, under the treaty, never be paid, but must be held in trust by the United States, the interest only being payable to the Indians.

No claims have ever been adjudicated by the tribe.

The impression made upon me by this review is, that the appropriation of 1861 was not sanctioned by the terms of the treaty, and that it was made either in forgetfulness of the terms of the treaty, as a payment in advance of any adjudication of individual claims by the tribe, or as a pure gratuity.

It also seems to me that no further appropriation can be wisely made, except upon the basis of the Senate bill 515, reported by Mr. Sebastian, before referred to, or after a careful review of the whole subject.

I am, very respectfully,

E. C. BANFIELD,
Solicitor of the Treasury.

Hon. GEORGE S. BOUTWELL,
Secretary of the Treasury.

INDIAN DEPREDATION CLAIMS NOW PENDING.

LETTER

FROM

THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR,

RELATIVE TO

An appropriation to pay certain Indian depredation claims now pending before Congress.

DECEMBER 3, 1872.—Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and ordered to be printed.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington, June 8, 1872.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith a copy of a report, dated the 6th instant, from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, in relation to certain Indian depredation claims now pending before Congress, and which are described in the accompanying schedule.

The Commissioner recommends that an appropriation be asked for the payment of these claims.

I will remark that this Department has no knowledge of the facts connected with these claims beyond what is contained in the Commissioner's report and the papers heretofore submitted to Congress.

Very respectfully,

C. DELANO,
Secretary.

Hon. JAMES G. BLAINE,
Speaker House of Representatives.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington, D. C., June 6, 1872.

SIR: Referring to the provisions of the seventh section of the Indian appropriation act, approved May 29, 1872, I have the honor to call the attention of the honorable Secretary to the fact that since the 27th November, 1871, I have reported upon 46 cases of alleged depredations by Indians, in which claims for damages had been filed in this office, (exclusive of the claim of Mrs. Fanny Kelly, which has already received favorable action by Congress,) recommending in each case a spec allowance. The total damages alleged by the claimants in these cases amount to $121,050.70. The total amount recommended for allowance is $58,815.10. During the same period of time a large number claims have been examined and reported on adversely to the Depment. Each of the claims favorably reported on, a schedule of wh accompanies this letter, was examined by myself. The presentation the case was to conform strictly to the regulations which governed respect to depredation claims under the act of 1834, prior to the pass of the act of July 15, 1870. The evidence has been scrutinized with utmost care, and is believed to establish incontrovertibly the fact depredation and the amount of damage in each case in the full s recommended for allowance. No more searching and severe examination could be made under any system of regulations or restrictions th might be adopted, and I feel therefore justified in suggesting to t Department that I be allowed to re-affirm under the provisions of act of May 29, 1872, and without further consideration, the action this office in respect to each and all of the 46 claims named in the companying schedule. Should this be held admissible, I would respectfully recommend that Congress be asked to make an appropriation the aggregate amount of $58,815.10 for the payment of the seve claimants whose claims have thus been recommended for allowance.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

F. A. WALKER,
Commissioner.

Hon. C. DELANO,
Secretary of the Interior.

Patents so issued (as hereinbefore set forth) shall authorize a transfer or alienation of such lands situate within the Sisseton agency, after the expiration of ten (10) years from this date, and within the Devil's Lake reservation after the expiration of fifteen (15) years, but not sooner.

DEPREDATIONS ON THE TEXAS FRONTIER.

LETTER

FROM

THE SECRETARY OF WAR,

RELATIVE TO

Depredations on the Texas frontier.

DECEMBER 3, 1872.—Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs and ordered to be printed.

WAR DEPARTMENT, December 2, 1872.

The Secretary of War has the honor to submit to the House of Representatives, for its consideration, copy of the proceedings of a public meeting, held August 16, 1872, of the citizens of Brownsville, Texas, in relation to depredations on the Texas frontier, and of a communication from the War Department, of the 13th September, showing its action in relation thereto.

WM. W. BELKNAP,
Secretary of War.

Proceedings of a meeting held by the citizens of Brownsville, Texas, relative to depredations on the Texas frontier.

In view of the atrocious acts of murder and violence committed in our midst, as illustrated in the wanton assassination of Mr. Joseph Alexander, on Sunday last, we, the undersigned, respectfully invite our fellow-citizens to meet at the court-house on Friday evening, the 16th instant, at five o'clock p. m., to take measures, if possible, to protect our lives and property in the future.

In accordance with the above call of a large number of the influential citizens of Brownsville and vicinity, a full meeting of the people was held at the time and place designated, which was called to order by Hon. Edward Dougherty. The following gentlemen were chosen as officers of the meeting: Hon. E. Downey, president; Hons. J. Galvan and R. B. Kingsbury, vice-presidents; George G. Davis, secretary.

The secretary then read the call for the meeting, after which it was moved by E. Doughtery that a committee of five be appointed by the chair to draught resolutions expressive of the sentiments of the people of this frontier. The following gentlemen were then appointed on the committee: Captain Mifflin Kenedy, Hon. F. J. Parker, J. S. Mansur, esq., James Dougherty, esq., and F. Yturria, esq.

Upon the committee retiring, Hon. F. E. Macmanus was requested to address the meeting, which he did, delineating the condition of this country between the Rio Grande and Nueces River, from the time of its occupancy to the present date; pointing out the wrongs suffered, outrages committed, and remedy proper to be applied, in a logical, eloquent, and forcible manner.

At his close, the committee on resolutions submitted the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas a depredatory war has existed on this frontier from the year 1839 up to date with occasional intermissions, and the people residing between the Nueces and the Rio Grande have suffered immense losses of property; that, what is worse, they have had many lives sacrificed to gratify the hate or secure the safety of the bands of Mexican marauders levying war upon a defenseless people; and

Whereas the murder of Mr. Joseph Alexander, on the 11th instant, is one of the most malignant and bloody deeds which has been perpetrated during a long series of acts of violence and bloodshed:

Resolved, That in order to prevent the recurrence of such deeds, we respectfully request the President of the United States to use the powers of our Government, by every means within his reach, to repel or prevent the constant incursions upon our soil and the actual war levied upon our people, or to take such measures of policy as will secure to us the protection which, in his public utterances, he has promised to every man who owes allegiance to our flag.

Resolved, That we pledge ourselves, individually and collectively, to the support of such measures, and, while deprecating the use of violent means by our citizens, we do promise to use all our efforts, as well to bring to justice the murderers, marauders and thieves who come upon our territory organized, armed, and equipped in Mexico, as to impress on our Government the enormity of the wrongs we have suffered in the past and the necessity of effectual means of security for the future.

Resolved, That we find ourselves in the face of an issue which involves the question whether the country between the Nueces and the Rio Grande shall be occupied and held by the armed bands from Mexico, who are endeavoring to rob us and drive us from our homes, and it is incumbent on our national authorities to decide this vital contest at once, in our favor, by the adoption of the means which they are bound in honor and justice to employ.

Resolved, That we are, as citizens of our common land, entitled to the protection of our homes, our persons, and our property; that the wrongs and evils and outrages of this depredatory war have proceeded until the forbearance of our Government has ceased to be a virtue, and that a sense of duty to ourselves, our families, and our neighbors, has impelled us to meet to-day to cause our voice to be heard throughout the land.

It was then moved by C. Carson, esq., that the secretary be directed to transmit an official copy of these resolutions to the President of the United States, the Secretary of War, and to the commanding officer of this department, which motion was carried.

Honorable Nestor Maxan was then called upon, and responded in an eloquent speech of some length, after which he introduced the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved, That we hail the sessions of the honorable commission now in our midst as a harbinger of the amelioration of our condition, and as a token of the earnestness of the Government in affording us the protection we so sorely need; and

Resolved, That while we give our heartfelt thanks to the members of the honorable commission for their zeal, efficiency, and impartiality in the investigation of the unhappy situation of the people of this frontier, we solicit them to furnish us with their important aid in obtaining the measure of protection to which, as citizens of our great republic, we are entitled.

Resolved, That in furtherance of this object, the secretary be instructed to transmit to the honorable commission a copy of the proceedings of this meeting, with a request that they make the same a part of the files of their evidence, as an expression of the universal feeling of our deeply-injured people.

Addresses were made by Honorable Patrick O'Docharty, of San Patricio, Colonel John S. Ford, Honorables Edward Dougherty and E. Downey, after which the meeting adjourned sine die.

G. G. DAVIS, Secretary.

EDWARD DOWNEY, President.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the 28th ultimo, inclosing copy of the proceedings of a public meeting held in Brownsville on the 16th of August, to consider the subject of depredations on the frontier.

The Secretary of War has the honor to reply, to a communication from the Committee of Claims, House of Representatives, of the 19th instant, covering petition of Hermann Bursch, and making inquiry relative to a claim of the proprietor of the New Yorker Demokrat for publishing certain advertisements of the War Department, that the records of said Department do not show that authority was given for the publication in that paper of the advertisements charged for in the claim in question. This Department has no doubt that the New Yorker Demokrat published these advertisements, but as the proprietors of that paper deny ever having received the orders forbidding copying of advertisements, (copies of orders heretofore annexed,) it is for the committee to determine, in view of the fact of their publication and such benefit as may have arisen to the Department therefrom, whether they should in equity be paid.

AGED DESTITUTE PERSONS IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

LETTER

FROM

THE SECRETARY OF WAR,

RELATIVE TO

The disbursement of the $12,000 appropriated by an act of Congress approved April 20, 1871, for the relief of aged destitute persons of the District of Columbia.

DECEMBER 3, 1872.—Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and ordered to be printed.

WAR DEPARTMENT, June 4, 1872.

The Secretary of War has the honor to transmit to the House of Representatives, for the information of Congress, a report of Major George Bell, commissary of subsistence, United States Army, of the manner of his disbursement of the twelve thousand dollars appropriated by an act of Congress approved April 20, 1871, for the relief of aged destitute persons of the District of Columbia.

WM. W. BELKNAP,
Secretary of War.

OFFICE POST AND DEPOT COMMISSARY OF SUBSISTENCE,
Washington, D. C., May 31, 1872.

SIR: On the 16th of May, 1871, you directed me to receive and distribute $12,000, appropriated by an act of Congress, approved April 20, 1871, for the relief of destitute aged persons in the District of Columbia. Having complied therewith, I have the honor to submit the following report:

The city and county of Washington, and Georgetown, were divided into a number of districts, in which those requiring aid, residing in the same locality, were grouped together, with their places of abode well defined on our records of each district. New cases from time to time were added as discovered. Provisions and fuel in such quantities as gave wholesome and substantial relief, together with a very few articles for making clothing, were furnished.

Digitized by Google

Knowing well the improvident character of the persons to be supplied, tri-monthly issues of provisions, carefully weighed and put up in the required quantities of these intervals, and monthly supplies of fuel, as long as the weather required it, were delivered by one of my agents at the residences of the needy in almost all cases, thus avoiding imposition or deception on the part of the party seeking relief, or deficiencies of the articles furnished. It also kept at their homes in inclement and unhealthy seasons those unable to bear exposure. In addition to our employés, information of those requiring assistance was generally solicited, and circulars sent to ministers of all the religious denominations in the District, and others, with blanks, for any cases of destitution or suffering, to which the law would apply, that might come under their observation. Many deserving persons were discovered by this means and relieved. No relief was denied where it could be consistently afforded. Temporary aid was given when necessary, but the greater portion of those relieved were of such a character as required permanent and regular supplies as long as the means at my command would permit it.

Total number of rations issued, 160,288, of which amount about 8 per cent. were issued to colored persons; about 75 per cent. of the whole amount to persons who came to the District since the commencement of the last rebellion. Many who received aid, by age and infirmities, are now permanently helpless and dependent alone on charity for their existence.

The provisions were all purchased on the most favorable terms under contracts or proposals made by the Subsistence Department, and the fuel on bids from circulars sent to the dealers, at the lowest market rates.

Your instructions were fully carried out in all cases, and the greatest amount of good done with the smallest possible means.

Vouchers for all expenditures were made monthly and rendered quarterly, with the same exactness required of any disbursement in your Department. The whole amount is expended, lasting about one year.

I append herewith statement "A," of the amount expended monthly and the articles purchased; also statement "B," showing the number relieved; color, nationality, age, and length of time they were residents of the District, as far as it was possible to obtain correct information of the same.

I am, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

G. BELL.

Major and Commissary of Subsistence, United States Army.

Hon. W. W. BELKNAP,

Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.

DECEMBER 3, 1872.—Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs and ordered to be printed.

WAR DEPARTMENT, December 2, 1872.

The Secretary of War has the honor to invite the attention of the House of Representatives to the fact that, on the 10th of October, 1872, while serving as an escort to a surveying-party on the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and encamped on the Yellowstone River, a number of the non-commissioned officers and privates of Company H, Second Cavalry, sustained a considerable loss of clothing, which loss, though unavoidable and incident to the service, they are compelled to bear individually, under existing law and regulations; and to recommend the passage of a bill authorizing the Secretary of War to credit each of them, upon the clothing-book of their company, with the value of the clothing lost, as shown in the accompanying statement, to which is annexed an official report of the fire in question.

WM. W. BELKNAP,
Secretary of War.

SURGICAL APPLIANCES.

LETTER

FROM

THE SECRETARY OF WAR,

RELATIVE TO

An appropriation for providing surgical appliances for certain classes of disabled persons.

DECEMBER 3, 1872.—Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and ordered to be printed.

WAR DEPARTMENT, December 2, 1872.

The Secretary of War has the honor to invite the attention of the House of Representatives to the terms of an appropriation made during the last session of Congress, included in the annual appropriations for the Army, (17 Stat., 260,) for providing surgical appliances for certain classes of disabled persons, $10,000.

The disbursements thus far made from this fund are:

For W. J. Brown, Company A, One Hundred and Forty-third Ohio Volunteers, appliance for paralysis of both legs	$150
For John F. Holston, late surgeon United States volunteers, invalid-chair on account of paralysis	75
For Robert W. Caulk, late fireman United States Navy, supporters for enormous irreducible hernia, including expenses	342
For Charles W. Ford, late Company K, One Hundredth Illinois Volunteers, support for injury of spine	15
For Christian F. Uhrbach, late Company I, Seventh New York Volunteers, support for injured leg	100
Total	682
Estimated amount required for appliances ordered and cases under consideration	2,400
Estimated amount required for the remainder of the fiscal year	1,918
Probable balance June 30, 1873	5,000

It is not likely that the whole of the appropriation will be required during the present fiscal year. If, however, it be regarded as an annual appropriation, any balance which may remain on the 30th June, 1873, will, under existing laws, revert to the Treasury.

As it is highly desirable that some Department of the Government be intrusted with a similar fund for the relief of meritorious cases not adequately provided for under any general law, it is respectfully recommended that either the present appropriation be declared permanent, or that another of $6,000, for the same purpose, be made for the next fiscal year.

WM. W. BELKNAP,
Secretary of War.
